Grant, Anna Purcell, Lucy Tatum, Allos Doyle, Cartwright, Louise Purcell, Julia Ostelow, Mary Drake, Sarah Baughman, Misses Le Fevre, Gay Courtney, Hattie Shields, Brent Wilt, Barclay Courtney, Jeanne Taylor, Margaret McGuire, Nancy Wade, Preston Womack, Isabelle Middleton, Margaret Williams, Martha Robinson, Nellie Gordon, Langhorne Cosby, Lucy Skelton, Inez Montague, Page Royall, Lucy Christian, Aileen Cowardin, Juliette Keith, Louise Herbert, Dora Dickens, Cora Younger, Bessie Selden, Charlotte Miller, Amelia Armstrong, Rose Jones, Louise McAdams, Carrie Neal, Jennie Warwick, Mrs. Page Burwell, Miss Sanford, Hartford, Conn.

About seventy-five cadets were in attendance in full dress uniform. Among the V. M. I. alumni, Messrs. Isaac Davenport, Henry McCance, P. L. Conquest, Jr., and others. The staff and Company A were invited, and quite a number were present. Company B was represented by the following: Lieut. Burwell, Sergeant Tucker, Sergeant Boleasau, Messrs. Montague, Boeschen, Pemberton, Shaffer, Archer, Bigger, Blinford, Brockebrough, Crump, Daniel, Ginn, Graham, Gunf, Haw, Hobson, Leonard, McCoy, Meade, Royster, James Smith, B. H. Smith, Stacy, Turner, and Goddard. Private Smith also present, and Mr. T. Garnett Tabb.

General Shop, of V. M. I., was a most welcome guest.

The members of the V. M. I. corps were enthusiastic over the affair, and the members of Company B have been showered with congratulations upon its great success, especially the committee, Messrs. Gutches, Dinko, Minford, Dickenbrough and Correll. The grateful compliment paid the cadets was thoroughly appreciated. The V. M. I. boys have reason to be attached to this staunch old military organization, as many graduates of the V. M. I. have been among the officers of the Blues at various periods of its history, the present captain of Company B numbering among the representative men, and while circumstances prevented his attending the dance, his name echoed throughout the ball-room in a characteristic college yell from the V. M. I. boys.

Inaugural Ball.

The inaugural ball, given at Saenger Hall by the Itequels Club, last Wednesday evening, was a most brilliant and successful affair, and was greatly enjoyed by those present. MISS ELIZABETH GEORGE.

Sponsor for the Confederate Reunion in Petersburg.

Miss George is the only daughter of the late Colonel Forney George, of the Eighteenth Regiment, North Carolina Volunteers, and resides with her mother at Oak Hill, Pittsylvania county, Va., on the D. and W. Railway. She is a very beautiful and accomplished young lady, and is very popular in Danville, where she spends a great deal of her time. Miss George has been appointed from the Fifth Congressional District.

Friday at Mr. John Payne's home, near the city. The Charlottesville Progress of Saturday says:

The followers of the hounds were Mr. Arthur White, M. F. H.; Mr. W. H. Balz and Arthur White, whips; Mr. and Mrs. David Sloan, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur White, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Brown, Miss Murphy and Mr. Johnson, Messrs. Frank Hough, Cary Ruffin Randolph, Payne, Charles Anderson, Blackwell and Wood.

After the drag the riders and guests at the club house were delightfully entertained at breakfast by Miss Nannie Lemmon, assisted by Mrs. J. Tannal Lea, Miss Kitty Lea and Mrs. Bessie Maury Haynes. Miss Estelle Burthe presided over the punch bowl, and Mrs. William M. Thornton served the coffee. The club house was beautifully and tastefully decorated with red autumn leaves and scarlet sage.

Among those present were Mr. and Mrs. William M. Thornton, Mrs. Russell Bradford, Mr. and Mrs. J. Anderson Chisholm, Mrs. W. H. Echols, Mrs. Price, Mrs. Lea, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Hough, Mrs. Brooks, Mrs. Bessie Maury Haynes, Mrs. Rinehart, Misses Estelle Burthe, Lella Harrison, Edith Summers, Sallie Baker, Kitty Lea, Elfr. Judith Maury, Tyson, Rita Green and Pollard; Judge Duke, Messrs. J. Snowden Wood, Charlie Moore and others.

Johnson-Courtney.

Among the marriages of the week will be that of Miss Margaret Elizabeth Courtney, daughter of Mrs. Elizabeth Hill Courtney and the late Lieutenant Giles C. Courtney, of the Confederate army, to Mr. Charles Ernest Johnson. The ceremony will be performed by the Rev. George H. Spooner at the bride's home, No. 909 East Leigh, on Tuesday morning, October 24th.

Duncan-Boney.

Sycle-Livingstone.

The Bloomington, Illinois, Pantograph, in referring to the marriage of Miss Bessie Ruth Livingston to Mr. Lee Sycle, of this city, taking place on Wednesday, October 18th, says:
An elaborate and fashionable wedding was celebrated last evening at 6:30 o'clock in Cooper parlors, when Miss Bessie Ruth Livingston, of this city, became the wife of Mr. Lee Sycle, of Richmond, Va. The marriage was the most notable event in Jewish society in recent years, and was the occasion for the gathering of guests from many distant places.

The wedding chorus from Lohengrin was played as the bride party approached. Rabbi Mannheimer and the groom, with his best man, Mr. Sam Sycle, entering from the south. The ushers, Messrs. Sam Livingston, brother of the bride; Max Livingston, Irving Strauss and Henry Einstein, preceded Miss Fannie Livingston, who served her sister as maid of honor, and the bride, with her brother, Mr. Milton Livingston, who gave her to the groom at the altar. Rabbi Mannheimer pronounced the full ring ritual, and at the recessional Ashton's orchestra rendered Mendelssohn's wedding march.

The bride wore a gown of white chiffon cloth over white tulle, with garnishment of duchess and rose point lace bertha, and with the yoke studded with seed pearls. She carried a white silk Bible, with shower bouquet of lilies of the valley. The bride veil was caught with orange blossoms and her only ornament was a diamond bow knot, the gift of the groom. Miss Livingston, maid of honor, wore a Valenciennes lace robe over white chiffon and carried pink roses, tied with pink tulle.

The guests, numbering seventy, repaired to the dining hall, where an elaborate dinner was served. Pink carnations and maidenhair fern formed the table decorations. The remainder of the evening was spent in dancing and social intercourse.

Mr. and Mrs. Sycle departed last evening for a trip to the East, visiting New York, Washington and Old Point Comfort, thence to their future home in Richmond, Va. Their home date is November 1st, at No. 261 South Grace Street, Richmond.

Mrs. Sycle is the daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. A. Livingston, and has always resided in this city, the Livingston home being at No. 210 East Jefferson Street. Her two brothers, Messrs. Milton and Sam, are at the head of the well known dry goods firm of A. Livingston and Sons, and among the city's most successful business men. The bride has been liberally educated, both here and elsewhere, being an attendant for some time at Lake Erie College, Plainsville, Ohio.

Y. M. C. A. Sociable.

The Virginia Passenger and Power Company, Y. M. C. A. and its Woman's Auxiliary are planning for a sociable to be given on the evening of Thursday, October 26th.

This will be the first affair of the kind since last winter, and judging by the interest manifested, it will be a success. The gifted elocutionist, Miss Semaj De France Boice, will entertain a Richmond audience for the first time. The Washington Post says of Miss Boice: "Miss Boice, with her class of juniors, gave a recital to crowded parlors, showing her ability as a teacher as well as her fine talent as a public entertainer."

The instrumentalist will be Miss Neal Greene, who has many friends in this city. There will also be fine singing. A touch of informality will be given in the guessing contest. Mrs. T. L. Dunn, who has charge of the evening, has made a great success of these contests.

All men employed by the company and their families are cordially invited to attend this complimentary entertainment.
